

Purchased a safe at WarehouseClub to protect my negatives. Tested size by inserting two separate negative files: Children, Motorcyclists. Then noticed Warning that safe contained water in its lining that would damage the negatives. Returned the safe. Months later I realized the loss of the negatives, called Warehouse on an unlikely find, was informed that they would research and get back to me. Amazingly Target called and informed me that the negatives had been turned over to the local police on a pornography charge. Called the local police which informed me that they had been turned over to the County District Attorney which informed me that they had the negatives, NOT CONNECTED IN ANY WAY, two separate categories

8. REMARKS : Collier Twp. Police requested assistance from ACP with regards three envelopes with photograph negatives that had been inside a safe purchased by an unknown woman at the Warehouse Club store in Collier Twp. Upon returning the negatives found inside the purchaser related to the store manager that the negatives were of naked children, Nazi's, and satanic rituals. The store manager contacted Collier Police and the items were turned over to Ptl. Krieger. The personnel from the store also noted that they received a phone call from a man who identified himself as Steve Glickman (ph.# 422-9607) who offered a $100.00 reward for the negatives.

The negatives were turned over to this officer by Ptl. Muenster and they were reviewed by this officer along with Dets. Moudry and Det. Sgt. LaMagna. None of the negatives or the proofs were pornographic nor satanic in nature and appeared to be the work of an amateur photographer. Mr. Glickman was contacted and arrangements
